

THE GARDENS OF GLEN BURNIE

Julian Glass and Lee Taylor envisioned the gardens as an extension of the house. Brick, stone, and turf pathways invited guests to stroll into formal and natural gardens. The outdoor “rooms” played host to numerous parties, dinners, and cocktail hours.

EXPLORING GLEN BURNIE

The first floor of the house is open to the public. Some spaces appear much as they did when Glass and Taylor entertained here. Information on the history of Glen Burnie is in the Dining Room.
